

Do you have the golden egg?

With UltraBac Software, Resellers Don't Need the Goose.

In today's competitive marketplace, resellers must find solutions that are not only profitable but minimize problems. Products that are difficult to install and use not only frustrate your customers and staff, but quickly deplete your margins. UltraBac Software eliminates these issues by offering resellers high quality backup and disaster recovery solutions. Those who sell our software know they are providing innovative, and feature rich products that are easy to activate and run. When questions do arise, outstanding technical support is given with hold times averaging three minutes. UltraBac Software's premier product, UBDR Gold, offers the best in bare metal disaster recovery. UBDR Gold can recover a dead server in as little as 5 minutes, and the process can even be 100% automated. For complete disaster recovery flexibility, UBDR Gold not only offers true dissimilar hardware restore capability, but also physical-to-virtual, virtual-to-virtual, and virtual-to-physical integration. Be a step ahead of the competition, while putting money in your pockets, by selling solutions with rock solid reliability. UltraBac Software believes the right way to create returns is by offering the best products and outstanding service to customers, not cutting reseller benefits. Our products aren't readily available through discounters—we do our best to protect reseller revenue. So while other backup and disaster recovery companies are busy padding their own nest eggs, the reseller profit margin is still as good as gold at UltraBac Software.
